HONGEONG, WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 12, 1877. WE learn that on the arrival of the Police are after bim. M. M. steamer Iraquaddy at Saigon, the Company's launch came off with a notification that the Agent had just received a telegram from home stating the Ancdyr had seven days' quarantine at Marseilles owing to cholera being prevalent at Saigon, and advising that in future vessels were to stop at Cape St. James. The Captain of the Iraouaddy, accordingly turned to go back without communicating with the shore, when he was stopped by the Governor's launch, ordering the vessel into port, his action in subjecting a large mail steamer like

The Russians were also repulsed about the same time at Turlak, a village about 20 miles to the southeast of Rustchuk, and the Turks, it was added, had assumed the offensive along the whole line. men, and the Turks 900. There is road, which may at the present season of the year be practicable for artillery, running from the great Biels-Rustchuk road to near Kazelevo, the scene of this last battle, and it is quite possible that a Turkish force may be endeavouring to reach Biela via this route. The bridge at Pirgos, a place a few miles higher up the river than Rustchuk, would be threatened if the Turks advanced on Biela by any route. All that is certain is that the Turks having Shumla as their chief basis have defeated the Russians in two important battles, and are now rapidly pressing the Russians westwards towards their central line extending from Sistova, where they crossed the Danube, to the Schipka Pass in the Balkan mountains. At Plevna, on the western side of the Russian line, Osman Pasha, with an army from Widin, is, on the other hand, endeavouring to press the Russians eastwards, and thus the great bulk of the Russian forces in Turkey may be regarded as holding the considerable strip of territory extending from Nikopolis on the west and Rustchuk on the east to the Balkans, with the Turks pressing them on both flanks, and Suleiman Pasha holding all the southern outlets of the Balkan passes. It is quite probable that there are nearly 250,000 Russians lying between the two Turkish armies that are endeavouring to effect a junction, and if the campaign is to be fought out to the end, some far heavier fighting than that either at Kaselevo or Plevna will yet have to take place.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

FROM a Police advertisement in our columns, it will be seen that a robbery of rather an extensive nature has taken place. Five $100 notes were stolen from the Rev. Father B. Vigano yesterday. This apostate took the opportunity to rob his master of his money, amounting to $500, and other things. It is needless to say that he has made himself scarce, and the

CORRESPONDENCE.

A KEYLESS REQUEST. To the Editor of the "CHINA MAIL."

Hongkong, Sept. 11, 1877. Sir,-In glancing at your "Correspondence" column 1 happened to read a request from "Sigma," who was modest enough to ask me in particular, and the world in general, for a solution to the "mythical" character of my recent letter, bearing the plain title of Things in Par-The facetious plumbing, ruling, and squaring which he gave to these effusions forcibly remind us that the terrors of the dog days are not only passed but that "Sigma" represents the "coming" man by "turning up" as public instructor. It must be delightfully refreshing to "Sigma's" immediate friends to peruse, in such dull weather, those tremendous and neatlyturned adjectives with which he can so ably qualify "extraordinary words and sentences," and equally can they be congratulated on his homely figures of speech that possess such a hearty Jovian ring, united with such Samaritan love, as is rarely vouchsafed to ordinary, plebeian mortals. He has made B praiseworthy effort, that must not pass unnoticed, of endeavouring to find, even in the midst of darkness, a "key" to the unfathomable mysteries with which, he tells us, his present existence is environed, and which may be briefly enumerated, according to himself, as a singular insbility, arising from mental obtuseness, in understanding the drift and moral of my late epistles which were not vulgar enough in diction for his capacity.

I can well afford to smile at the magnanimous way he has of shirking what is to him and my other late opponents a very necessary and commendable task, viz :-- to judge others charitably, and discard that odious kind of misrepresentation which lately came before the public, in the China Mail, branded with the witheringly miles from Chefoo, in January last, when to come out of the bushes three or four at qualifying phrase, "deliberate falschood!" | plaintiff, who was salving the cargo, was a time. THE CHINA REVIEW.

THE widely-expressed regret at the discontinuance of Notes & Queries on China and Japan, has induced the publishers of this journal to issue a publication similar in object and style, but slightly modified in certain details.

THE CHINA REVIEW, or Notes and Queries on the Far East, is issued at intervals of two months, each number containing about 60 octavo pages, occasionally illustrated with lithographs, photographs, woodcuts, &c., should the papers published demand, and the circulation justify, such extra matter.

The subscription is fixed at $6.50 postage paid, per annum, payable by non-residents in Hongkong half-yearly in advance.

The publication includes papers original and selected upon the Arts and Sciences, Ethnology, Folklore, Geography, History, Literature, Mythology, Manners and Customs, Natural History, Religion, &c., &c., Japan, Mongolia, Tibet, China, Eastern Archipelego and the "Far East" A more detailed list of subjects upon which contributions are especially invited is incorporated with each number. Original contributions in Chinese, Latin, French, German, Spanish, Italian or Porare admissible. Endeavours are made to present a resume in each number of the contents of the most recent works bearing on Chinese matters. Great attention is also paid to the Review department. Notes and Replies are classified together as "Notes" (head references being given, when furnished, to previous Notes or Queries), as are also those queries which, though asking for information, furnish new or unpublished details concerning the matter in hand. It is desirable to make the Queries proper as brief and as much to the point as possible.
